

Kaleidoscope

Opportunities, raffles, auctions, programs and workshops.
The endless possibilities shared by people with passions.
The Alpha State Convention promised a party and delivered a gala
Of festivities of song, dance and fellowship.

Red tote bags and workshop carts flourished.
First timers and new presidents found mentors and friends.
Who knew a birthday party with cake and candles
Could be a time machine of laughter?

Workshops, presentations, box lunches and finances
Filled our days and touched our hearts and minds.
Memories of the past, new patterns of the future
Connected the radiant colors at each turn of the scope.

Our days were filled with sharing of new insights and special interests,
Reports of people, passions and possibilities.
Awards for the job well done and the enthusiasm to do more,
A celebration of people and the connection of sisters.

Leaving that place with the fond friendships
There is a renewed desire to continue and to grow,
The challenge to create new patterns at every turn,
To be a kaleidoscope of people, passions, possibilities.
